SICK PRESIDENT WATCHES WHAT MAY BE "INDUSTRIAL REVOLT"

Wilson's Situation Pathetic As Radicals Try To Make Own Opportunity---Waits Chance To Mediate In Coal Strike.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 1.—The bed-ridden president of the United States, pale and weak from his long confinement, is keeping minute watch on coal strike developments and has caused it to be known he is ready to act to secure fair play as between miners and operators the moment the strike is called off.

The president is ready to do a day's work if necessary, it was stated at the White House today.

With what many call an industrial revolt in full swing, and with officers of the American Federation of Labor here issuing a warning that the injunction proceedings in Indianapolis with their aftermath, today, are calculated to bring on "more disturbing issues," a more highly dramatic or pathetic drama has seldom been enacted at the White House.

First figures reaching the capitol, purporting to tell to a man how many of the bituminous coal miners had responded to the call of their leaders to strike, were not generally credited. The figure cited was 394,600 men. It was regarded as a trifle early to determine with such nicety the number of miners actually out.

Saturday and Sunday are always idle days in the mining regions, it is said, especially during the past six months, and for that reason it is considered that early figures are liable to prove deceptive.

There is disquieting talk in American Federation of Labor circles concerning the spread of the strike. Reports of radicals being in the ascendency are current, and it is being freely asserted that the leaders of the fourteen unions of railwaymen now affiliated with the Federation, desire to join the movement.

MAYOR REPLIES TO MR. METZGER

Shows City Balances of $181,029.97 on October 1st—Gives Budget Figures for Various Years—Corrects Errors in Metzger's Statements.

Office of the Mayor.
Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 31, 1919.
Editor Kingston Daily Freeman:

I do not wish to become a "professional corrector" of the many errors in the guessing and imaginary figures presented to the public by your opponent. However, I cannot permit all of them to go uncorrected.

He erroneously states that the budget of 1919 increased $221,643.23 over the budget for 1913.

In so fighting he gives the budget for 1913 as $389,046.23. This was the budget, with a few dollars difference, for 1914, the first year of my administration.

The budget for the year 1913, the last year of the preceding administration, was $425,572, and the tax rate $24.90.

The net amount levied for city purposes for the year 1919, exclusive of educational purposes which is separately levied, was $353,371.63, and the total budget, $452,815.59, which includes the city's share of state and county taxes.

He also raises some question about the money provided for the Charities Board for 1919. Because of the influenza and other emergencies, the board required some additional money for the expenses of 1918. The appropriation for the expenses of the board in 1919 was $27,872.85.

He also charges the city with borrowing from one fund to another. Since I have been in office no moneys have been transferred from one specific fund to another fund.

He also states that the city has borrowed the sum of $65,000. This is incorrect. It is true that the city has always been compelled to borrow some money near the end of the year. This was done during each of the years 1912 and 1913 by the preceding administration when Mr. Metzger was corporation counsel to a much greater extent and in a much larger amount than will be necessary this year. The necessity for this borrowing is due, amongst other reasons, to the fact that the bank shares tax, amounting to about $15,000, and the mortgage tax, and all of the corporation tax, will not be due until December or thereabouts. Besides, this year, the city will lose all or nearly all of its $45,000 excise taxes due in October, and the income tax which will help to offset it will not be due until after the first of the year.

He would have the people infer that the city has expended all of its funds. The city treasurer must make a sworn report each month. The last report is dated October 17, and shows the balances on October 1 in each of the funds. I am sending this statement in hope that the voters separately and in detail will read it. It shows a total balance, including special assessments, of $181,029.97 on hand. This is more than double the balance on hand at the same time in 1913.

I wrote Mr. Metzger's representative, and I also wrote him that I would be pleased to obtain any data or figures in reference to city affairs which could be obtained readily and for use before election. If he would submit the questions or inquiries to me, his representative submitted twelve questions to me. It took several days to obtain the data, which was given him on October 20. He has failed to publish these questions and answers. He had a representative look over the tax and assessor's books for several days, and he was given all books and data desired and shown every courtesy.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR.

CHURCHES TOMORROW USHER IN RED CROSS WEEK WITH A WILL

Workers Find Campaign Opening Well and Things Expected To Move Rapidly---Industrial Workers Alive To Needs.

The workers are out! The response is good! Red Cross Week is finding Kingston with both a membership of what the Red Cross has been and a knowledge that the Red Cross must complete its war obligations and must be saved as America's great organization of sympathy and mercy.

Red Cross Sunday tomorrow appropriately ushers in Red Cross week. President Ellis of the Ministerial Association has transmitted to all the clergy of the city the request of Chairman Frank Cockendall that National Red Cross Sunday be observed. Every church in Kingston will give out tomorrow the message of service to mankind through the work of the Greatest Mother.

Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Chairman Leo Herbert of the Industrial Canvassers will marshal his teams at Red Cross headquarters in the armory ready to hold Red Cross meetings in Kingston factories. The industrial workers are ready now as they have been before on every occasion of a Red Cross appeal, to renew their allegiance and membership in the organization of 20,000,000 Americans which is so close to the hearts of everyone.

Monday's work will close when the city canvassers teams under Lieut. Dittus, and the industrial canvassers under Chairman Herbert, gather at the Y. M. C. A. at 9 o'clock to make their first report.

And these reports will be good for the boys of the American Legion, the Motor Corps girls, and many veteran Red Cross workers are already busy at their task of giving everybody a chance to join the Red Cross.

Kingston windows are already dotted with the signs of Red Cross 1920 membership, and membership not for one person in the family but each person in every family. All that is needed is "a heart and a dollar."

There may be people who do not know just what the American Legion button which many of the workers wear looks like. This is what they are to note in the buttonhole of the men who are getting the Red Cross memberships: A small, round, gold-rimmed button, with a blue circle inside of the gold circle. In the very center of the button, on a bronze star there appears the letters, U. S., while on the blue circle are the words, "American Legion."

400,000 SOFT COAL MINERS OUT ON STRIKE---NO DISORDER YET

No Action By Government So Far On Injunction---Soldiers Sent To Central West Virginia Fields.

(By International News Service.)
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 1.—Early reports from the bituminous coal fields were that the union miners obeyed the national strike call and that approximately 400,000 were idle today.

"I am surprised for I thought the strike was crushed," was the home comment of John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, in Indianapolis.

Government officials in Washington moved swiftly to protect the public, but no action had been taken this morning on the federal injunction secured at Indianapolis restraining the union officials from aiding the national strike.

Trouble is feared in West Virginia and nearly 1,000 soldiers have been sent into the state. About 40,000 union miners in the West Virginia coal fields went out, but thousands of others are unorganized.

Nearly 75,000 men were reported out in the great soft coal fields of Pennsylvania.

Continuous reports of walkouts were received from the various coal fields during the day.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Without a directing hand, approximately 400,000 bituminous coal miners of the United States were on strike today, according to early reports at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers here. Complete reports, miners leaders assert, will show half a million men idle.

The strikers are deprived of a guiding hand through the temporary restraining order, issued in federal court here yesterday against 84 officers of the mine workers.

HERBERT OPENS BROOM FACTORY

In Mill Street Plant Where He Manufactured Brushes During World War—Plant Closed for Some Time.

Leo F. Herbert has purchased the Paramount Broom Company of Washington, and will remove the plant and equipment to this city, and open a factory to manufacture brooms and whisk brooms in the Mill street plant of the Herbert Brush Company, which has been idle for some time. The former owner of the Paramount concern, Howard M. Whaley, has been retained by Mr. Herbert as superintendent of the new venture.

The Mill street plant was formerly the Washington Candy Company factory, and was purchased by the Herberts when they needed more room and factory facilities to fill the big government orders they had received while the world war was in progress. At the close of the war the contracts which remained unfulfilled were largely cancelled and for that reason the Mill street plant was shut down.

It is understood that Mr. Herbert will own and manage the proposed broom business himself. The machinery he has purchased is expected to arrive early next week, and will be installed as rapidly as it arrives.

DEER HUNTERS FLOCK TO HILLS

Howard Winne, the Phenicia autobus man, stated that when coming to this city this morning from Shandaken with his stage, he imagined that the Russian Bolshevik army had invaded that section of the Catskills. Fully a hundred men with guns, and many wearing red caps or hats, were seen along the highway, while he passed many in autos going up the road. There were scores of autos standing along the highway, under sheds and in farm yards, and they all had brought deer hunters to the Catskills, this being the first day of the open season.

HOPE GONE FOR OHIO MINERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Amsterdam, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Hopes for the safety of their loved ones buoyed through 72 hours' vigil by the absence of definite news were dashed for the wives, parents and children of twenty entombed miners in Number 2 Mine of the Young, Ghent and Ohio Coal Company late last night when the faithful band of rescue workers reached the underground tomb and found its occupants dead.

At 8 o'clock today two of the seven bodies recovered so far had been brought to the surface. They were James Gray, 67, and Stoney Illinoisky, 44. The other five are pinned down by debris and workers are clearing the way to bring them to the surface.

The work of bringing out the bodies has been retarded by the names which during the early morning hours gained headway in the vicinity of entry 15, where the bodies were found.

The other 13 bodies are believed to be just beyond where the other seven were found hidden beyond a great pile of debris.

The workers at 8 o'clock were busily engaged in their efforts to entangle the flames and arrangements are also being made to furnish the workers with fresh air so that they can work without gas helmets. This will facilitate the work of bringing out the bodies.

Rescue workers predicted today that all of the bodies will be brought out within a few hours.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Andrew Lang, who recently became the wife of a brother of the bride, and who wore a wedding dress of white tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses. The best man was Eldon Fyler, a brother of the bride. The bride was given away by her brother, Chris H. Lang. The bride party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Marie Lang, a cousin of the bride. Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served, and later Mr. and Mrs. Fyler left for a wedding trip, and upon their return will reside at No. 143 Standard street, Syracuse. SHIPYARD WORKER NEARLY DROWNS

Philip Gunther Narrowly Escapes Death When Stage Topples Over—Owes Life to Quick Presence of Mind of John Manning.

Philip Gunther, a caulker, employed by the Hiltbrand Dry Dock Company, narrowly escaped death Friday afternoon when a stage on which he was working toppled over, throwing him into the creek. The stage was stretched from the shore to one of the dry docks. In his fall, Gunther was hit by either a piece of scaffolding or a spike, which cut a deep gash in his head. It is said that had it not been for a silver plate which had been placed in his head when a boy, the blow might have crushed the brain.

To John Manning, a fellow employee, more than any one else, Gunther probably owes his life. Manning was working nearby. When he saw Gunther fall he rushed to his assistance. It was impossible for him to reach down into the water for the man, so with quick presence of mind he gripped each side of the dock with his hands and suspended himself near the water. As Gunther's head bobbed above the surface, Manning grabbed him around the neck with his feet. He held him in this position until other assistance came, and Gunther with much difficulty was lifted from the water. A barrel was immediately secured and Gunther rolled over it, emptying his stomach of considerable water. Artificial respiration was also applied. With this first aid, Gunther soon returned to consciousness.

Almost as soon as Gunther was taken from the water, Dr. George W. Ross was on the scene. While the men were endeavoring to get him out, the doctor was called on his telephone. The doctor was not in, but it was stated that he was on his way to South Rondout to visit a patient. Two men were sent up the street to head him off. After dressing Gunther's wounds, Dr. Ross took him to the Kingston City Hospital, where he is now resting as comfortably as can be expected. Gunther resides at 83 Greenkill avenue.

Taxpayer Points Out Faults of Irwin Administration.

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 1st, 1919.

To the Editor of the Freeman:

I saw an advertisement in the Leader this morning in which the writer signs his name "G. O. P." I presume Emanuel Metzger wrote it because it sounds like him and acts like him. Emanuel Metzger undoubtedly paid for the printing of it. The article attacks Mr. Canfield's administration.

I desire to call Mr. Metzger's attention to the fact that there has been no robbery or defalcation in the treasury during Canfield's administration. The city's affairs have been conducted in a business-like manner and attention has been given to every detail thereof which he cannot say was done under the Irwin administration of which he was the Corporation Counsel. The same bunch are behind Metzger who had charge of the administration when he was Corporation Counsel and when the City Treasury was raided and about $10,000 stolen by the City Treasurer.

Yours were truly,

MINERS' WALKOUT WAS GENERAL

90,000 Reported Out in Illinois and 75,000 in Pittsburgh District—Only 4,000 Out in West Virginia and Clash With Non-Unionists in Feared.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 1.—Coal production in Illinois was at a standstill today. Not a pick or shovel sounded in the mine—the first day of the strike.

Ninety thousand men are out, union officials declare.

In Springfield sixteen mines, employing more than 8,000 men were silent. Outlying districts report similar conditions.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 1.—Early reports from the coal centers of western and southern Pennsylvania indicate that the mine walkout was generally obeyed by the bituminous miners. With a few exceptions the mines which employed organized workers were tied up. Nearly 75,000 are reported out.

In the immediate Pittsburgh district 15,000 men obeyed the order. The strike order did not affect the big unorganized districts in the Collierville coke region and northern Pennsylvania. The H. C. Frick Coal and Coke Company was preparing today to work its 30,000 men full time.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 1.—About 4,000 miners obeyed the strike call in West Virginia, according to the best estimates today. The unorganized districts in the southern parts of the state were unaffected.

The situation was tense today following persistent rumors that the organized miners were again preparing to march on the non-union fields. Eight hundred United States troops were encamped on the outskirts of Charleston today.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Whistles invited Indiana miners to work as usual today but the blasts were unheeded and miners' trains proceeded empty to the pits, according to reports from the mining districts to union headquarters, indicating practically complete cessation of work. Approximately 25,000 Indiana workers are affected.

Columbus, O., Nov. 1.—Early reports here indicate that 40,000 coal miners in Ohio mining districts are on strike this morning.

The walkout started yesterday noon and this morning scattered reports indicated no men were left in Ohio mines beyond those necessary to safeguard the property.

POLICE ON JOE.

And Jones Had To Pay For Side-Swapping Another Car.

Friday afternoon police headquarters received word that a man with a Ford car with box attached at rear, had struck an automobile standing still at Shokan, damaging it considerably and that the Ford had gone on toward Kingston without stopping. The police patrol auto with Officers Kavan and Soper went to the Washington avenue street and about 5 o'clock stopped two men in a Ford answering the description sent from Shokan, and took the man and the Ford to the court house and turned the matter over to Under Sheriff Handenbeck as the incident happened outside the city. Mr. Handenbeck got busy and learned that the Ford driver in his attempt to make a scene of houseside-swapping the auto standing by the roadside, owned by William Quick of Olive Bridge, and had damaged the latter's car. After some discussion a settlement was made for $15. The Ford was owned by Bert Jones of Rochester, N. Y., who with a companion was on a camping trip. No apparent damage was done to the Ford.

Willard

Uniformity

Uniformity is the secret of success of any good product.

It's the reason Willard Batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation are making such a wonderful record of long life without repairs.

Ordinary materials used for insulation between battery plates are taken just as they come from nature and can't be made uniform by any process.

But Threaded Rubber Insulation is built up by a scientific manufacture. Every piece of it is like every other and almost invariably Threaded Rubber lasts as long as battery plates.

No wonder many of these batteries have given three and four years of uninterrupted good service.

Joy in One's Work.
The idea of joy in one's work has been often ridiculed, but nevertheless it is fast taking root in the minds of many and proving its value and merit. Today many things are done, many principles accepted, which were considered absurd or not considered at all a generation ago. To perform the day's work joyfully and joyously may not be possible, in cases, without effort, but the fact is being realized more and more that it is very much worth while to develop the habit.—Exchange.

METZGER'S VIEWS ON SUNDAY BALL

Democratic Candidate For Mayor States the Facts as He Understands Them and Defines His Position.

Editor Kingston Freeman:—
I notice in your issue of last evening a statement of an alleged taxpayer in the Second ward in which he says that he favors Mayor Canfield for re-election for a fourth term and in which he asserts that if I am elected, "it means Sunday baseball and no street improvements."

This statement is evidently intended to mislead or to deceive as it is a fact that at no time and at no place have I said that if elected I would have Sunday baseball. The writer of this letter could not have read my letter of acceptance with any degree of comprehension since, in that statement I declared my belief in the people enjoying the fullest measure of freedom, so long as it did not interfere with the rights of others and the morals of the community, and that, if the people of the city want Sunday baseball there is no reason why, under proper conditions, they should not have it.

If I am elected mayor it will not be in my power to enact any ordinance providing for Sunday baseball. The enactment of such an ordinance will be up to the common council, the aldermen, representing the several wards of the city. And the mayor is not a member of the common council, nor has he even a vote in it. In the office of mayor, I would deem myself to be in exactly the same position that the governor of the state and the Republican legislature were in, when they passed and signed the bill permitting Sunday baseball; viz: It is a matter for the people of each jurisdiction to decide for themselves whether baseball is to be allowed on Sunday or not.

As for street improvements, I always have been and am now in favor of them and will continue to keep up the work of improving the streets, but will be opposed to the spending of more money in any one year than a reasonable tax rate on the people will justify.

And I might add, for the benefit of the writer of the letter in the Freeman last night, that, in the office of mayor, I will not attempt to personally control the action of the common council or the board of public works, or other city boards, but will aim to work in harmony with them, and will expect them to work in harmony with me, and for the benefit of the city and the people, and always to listen to the voice of the people.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE REFORMATION

When the young German monk, Martin Luther, on the 31st of October, 1517, posted his 95 theses on the door of the church of All Saints in Wittenberg denouncing the wrong practices of the church in which he had dedicated his life, he was initiating a movement which turned the course of history. Luther was a German, the greatest German the German nation ever produced. "For my Germans," said Luther, "I was born, them with I serve." But the reformation, in which Luther was the leader, exercised its beneficial influence not only throughout Germany but over the whole civilized world and it is in that sense that the Reformation of the 16th century is considered as the beginning of a new era in the history of the world. The principles of that Reformation for which Luther lived and was ready to die are the propelling forces of modern church history and of modern political history as well, and therefore not only the theologian, but also the political and literary historian hails the work of the Reformation as one of the greatest blessings ever bestowed on mankind. The Lutheran church, while she is conscious of her glorious heritage, will not forget the anniversary of the great Reformation which God effected through his chosen instrument, Dr. Martin Luther, the great and heroic confessor of Christ. Tomorrow, the Reformation festival will be observed by the hosts of Lutherans all over the globe with praise and thanksgiving, and the German and English Lutherans of our city will commemorate the great historical event. Solemn services will be held in the Spring Street German Lutheran Church, German in the morning and English in the evening, and the Lord's Supper will be administered at both services. All Christians whom God has blessed through the Reformation, should celebrate this anniversary.

A. S.
"ALL SOULS."
I came from my bed when the twilight deep
Was dark in its purple birth,
For I had slept while my brothers sleep
In the soft and warm earth.
Far from our home, in a foreign land,
Where we gave our lives for right,
And we had slept for many a day,
But the soul walks forth tonight.
I crossed the sea in a second's space,
Never distance bars the dead—
I stood in my father's dwelling place
Where the lamp's soft rays were shed.
They sat at the board, and off we fled
And I stood beside them.
"Tonight," said mother, "how near seems
The night."
And I stood by their side unseen.
"Tears bedtime near; they knelt to pray
For the souls that the year had sped;
On All Souls night, when the year grows grey."
And the faithful pray for the dead.
They prayed that night, when memory
seems.
They spoke my name; and wept
"How near," said mother, "how near he seems."
The night was late; they slept.
Back to our bed in an alien shore,
I and my mates again,
The dawn was near, and room no more,
But we felt not and we pined,
"Not yet forgotten," each we said,
Content we go to sleep.
On All Souls night, the Night of the Dead,
And the sleep in the blessed is deep.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MAYOR CANFIELD

Dear Mayor Canfield:
I notice your advertisements in which you charge that I, as corporation counsel failed to get a settlement from the Kingston Consolidated Railway Company, on the claim of the city against such railroad company, whereas my successor in office, the present corporation counsel and your law partner, Mr. William D. Brinnier, was successful in affecting a settlement with the railroad company for $6,000. The truth is that the claim of the city against the Railroad Company when the matter came to me was for over $12,000. I took up the matter of collecting this, and was visited by Mr. Tebow, of the railroad company, who expressed a desire for a settlement. I told him that the only compromise that I would agree to would be to waive the interest on the claim, that I would recommend that the Common Council settle the claim for its face value, but not for a penny less. And I told him that in my opinion, the claim, prosecuted, could be collected in full. He did not accept my terms.

Later, Mr. Brinnier, corporation counsel, and your law partner, did make a settlement with the railroad company, for $4,000. And the city lost the difference between this sum and the face value of the claim.

I have told you before, however, that I am not a candidate for the office of corporation counsel, but for the office of mayor.
I now charge that you are talking about my work as corporation counsel, solely for the purpose of throwing dust in the eyes of the voters of the city. They are not interested so much in the matters of the corporation counsel's office seven or eight years ago, as they are in the issue of the present campaign, on which you have managed to keep a profound silence.

For instance, the people of this city would like you tell them:
1. Will you insist on having the Broadway crossing eliminated at this time, and will you tell the people positively how much money it is going to cost them?
2. Will you stand by the policy of expending a city forever, at a cost to the city for each of the next five years, of $11,000 or over, and who is the man you have in mind for this work?
3. Will you tell the people if you or your administration or your city boards have borrowed this year from banks, or individuals connected with banks any large sum of money, money that must be paid out next year's taxes, and if it is going to be necessary for you to borrow more money to finish the year's work?

And again, Mr. Canfield,
I HAVE HEARD THE STORY TOLD THAT YOU ARE NOT INTENDING TO TELL THE PEOPLE WHAT THE TAX RATE FOR NEXT YEAR WILL BE, BECAUSE THE TAX RATE IS GOING TO BE ABOUT FIVE THOUSAND. IS THIS TRUE?

Please stop throwing the dust, please stop trying to hoodwink the people. We are candidates for an office in 1919, not in 1912.
Be fair. Stick to the points at issue. Don't wander all over the ground. Talk about the issues that the people are interested in right now.

The truth is that the claim of the city against the Railroad Company when the matter came to me was for over $12,000. I took up the matter of collecting this, and was visited by Mr. Tebow, of the railroad company, who expressed a desire for a settlement. I told him that the only compromise that I would agree to would be to waive the interest on the claim, that I would recommend that the Common Council settle the claim for its face value, but not for a penny less. And I told him that in my opinion, the claim, prosecuted, could be collected in full. He did not accept my terms.

Later, Mr. Brinnier, corporation counsel, and your law partner, did make a settlement with the railroad company, for $4,000. And the city lost the difference between this sum and the face value of the claim.

I have told you before, however, that I am not a candidate for the office of corporation counsel, but for the office of mayor.
I now charge that you are talking about my work as corporation counsel, solely for the purpose of throwing dust in the eyes of the voters of the city. They are not interested so much in the matters of the corporation counsel's office seven or eight years ago, as they are in the issue of the present campaign, on which you have managed to keep a profound silence.

For instance, the people of this city would like you tell them:
1. Will you insist on having the Broadway crossing eliminated at this time, and will you tell the people positively how much money it is going to cost them?
2. Will you stand by the policy of expending a city forever, at a cost to the city for each of the next five years, of $11,000 or over, and who is the man you have in mind for this work?
3. Will you tell the people if you or your administration or your city boards have borrowed this year from banks, or individuals connected with banks any large sum of money, money that must be paid out next year's taxes, and if it is going to be necessary for you to borrow more money to finish the year's work?

And again, Mr. Canfield,
I HAVE HEARD THE STORY TOLD THAT YOU ARE NOT INTENDING TO TELL THE PEOPLE WHAT THE TAX RATE FOR NEXT YEAR WILL BE, BECAUSE THE TAX RATE IS GOING TO BE ABOUT FIVE THOUSAND. IS THIS TRUE?

Please stop throwing the dust, please stop trying to hoodwink the people. We are candidates for an office in 1919, not in 1912.
Be fair. Stick to the points at issue. Don't wander all over the ground. Talk about the issues that the people are interested in right now.

E. METZGER.

THE CITY ELECTION

While some heat has developed as the election campaign in the city draws to a close, heat which seems inevitable as it is foolish, there has been, on the whole, a marked improvement over most campaigns in the past. The Freeman has gone on publishing a newspaper—with strong accent on the first syllable—a course that it proposes to continue. Whatever of acrid discussion there may have been has been in the advertising columns or over the signatures of the candidates or their friends, and the excitement under which these gentlemen labored excused in some degree the way they have wandered far afield from the real issue involved, obscuring rather than pointing it out.

The issue in the present municipal campaign is so obvious that it would need no pointing out had there been no discussion whatever. But in view of what has been said and written it may be well at this time, with the campaign practically closed, to brush away the smoke of the conflict, the trifling squabbles and absurd magnifying of little things, and consider it calmly.

Six years ago the city was heavily in debt and going into debt more deeply at every turn. The margin of credit that had been attained during the administration of Mayors Thompson and Crane and some of their predecessors and that had made possible the paving of Broadway during Mayor Crane's administration, had been almost wiped out, notwithstanding that repeated raising of assessments had made it larger from time to time during the Irwin administration. Aside from Broadway and Pine Grove avenue we did not have a mile of modern paved streets.

During the six years that Mayor Canfield has been in control of the city government litigation that had been accumulating for years has been terminated favorably to the city, the bonded indebtedness has been reduced by more than $300,000, the streets have been maintained in better condition than ever before, many miles of pavement have been built, the entrances to the city have, with one exception, been permanently improved, the public buildings have been kept in repair and improved, the equipment of the street and fire departments has been strengthened and brought up to date by the addition of modern apparatus, and along many other lines of improvement the city has made substantial progress.

Do we desire to continue to progress and at the same time continue to reduce our bonded indebtedness, or do we want to go back to the old ways of running deeper into debt? Under Republican administration we have progressed and paid. Under Democratic administration what progress we made was not paid for and our debts increased out of all proportion to the progress made.

This is the one issue in the campaign. It is so obvious that we have not thought it worth while to discuss it at length or repeatedly.

MORE WOMEN NOT VOTING.

Do women want to vote? In view of the vigorous suffrage agitation headed by women, this question may seem absurd. But is it? The case has been cited of one woman who a few years ago declared that she "hated to vote." There was no doubt about her earnestness; she seemed to look forward to the experience as the greatest and most delightful event of her life. Perhaps she expected too much and the wonderful experience, when at last it came to her of putting into a box a paper covered with the names of men she was never to see and about whom she knew little did not give her the joy she had counted on. At all events, after one or two repetitions her interest waned, she tired of the "bothers" and now her "hated" track out in other directions. Another woman, many women are not like her, of course, and undoubtedly there are many women more capable of intelligent action than this one. At the same time it is certain that many women are like her, more or less, as the figures for successive registrations show.

Take the situation in New York as an example. "What's the matter with the ladies?" plaintively asks the Sun, and shows that their registration in the metropolis is nearly 60,000 less than it was in 1918, although even in 1918 only about two-thirds of the newly enfranchised women who were entitled to register did so. Last year the total registration in New York City was 1,014,843, of which only 468,671 were women. This year the total registration is 1,078,253, of which 363,883 are women. Nearly 50,000 fewer women registered this year than last year and nearly 110,000 more men qualified for voting. There is a similar falling off in all the boroughs. In Brooklyn last year the registered women were only 60,000 fewer than the registered men, this year they were 123,000 fewer. In Manhattan the women lost 17,999 in registered strength while the men gained 39,000. Expressing regret for this showing, the Sun says: "When the ballot privilege was given to the women it was assumed that a great new moral force was at hand. But when two-thirds of the women who are eligible to vote refuse or forget to register, the situation is worse than ever, for the wives of the strictly machine voters do not refuse or forget."

There is food for thought in this discovery that among the registered in New York the ratio is one woman to two men, notwithstanding the fact that voting is an old business with the men and is still a comparatively novelty with the women. Obviously women as a class are not as interested and not as eager to vote as men. What is the explanation? One check to the registration of women is the age-telling requirement, as previously reported from New York, but it is impossible to believe that this is the whole of the matter. There is conclusive evidence of far greater indifference among women than among men. If it were possible to secure a vote of all the women on the question as to whether they do or do not desire the ballot, the result might be a very unpleasant surprise to the suffrage leaders who, by the way, have been reported as vigorously opposed to such a referendum.

Under the new census of next year New York, Chicago and Philadelphia are sure to retain their first, second and third positions in the matter of population, but candidates for the fourth place live in fear that they must yield to Detroit. The census of 1910 gave St. Louis 687,029, Boston, Cleveland, Baltimore and Pittsburgh following in their order, all beating Detroit's 465,766. Now it is claimed that Detroit will leap ahead of them all to fourth place with at least a million inhabitants.

Find Out About This Boiler Before You Decide

Go a little slow. The wrong boiler is a horrible thing to have in your cellar.

It makes so many uncomfortable.

It may even provoke profanity.

One thing it certainly does do, and that is: dies into your pocket book to keep it fed up on the coal it needs.

Now, it's easy enough to claim that this Kingstonian Boiler burns less coal than any other. But to prove it, is quite another thing.

It's this very quite another thing that we want the chance to prove to you. Will you give us that chance?

MUST HAVE "PLIM" FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Board of Education Makes New Regulation Relative to Status of Pupils—New Salary Scale is Adopted—Other Business Transacted.

Beginning with next school year all pupils will be admitted to the high school unless they have passed the preliminary certificate required for admission to the high school. This action was taken Friday night by the board of education on the recommendation of the teachers' committee. Heretofore it has been the practice to admit pupils to the high schools conditioned in one subject. The following report of the committee states clearly the reasons for recommending the change:

Gentlemen: Your teachers' committee beg to report that it has been the practice under the regulations of this board to admit pupils to the high school conditioned in one elementary subject required for a regents' preliminary certificate. Pupils thus admitted cannot be classified under the rules of the State Education Department, as academic students. These conditioned pupils although they have passed the regents' examinations in all other elementary subjects, as a rule do not make satisfactory progress in the high school. They are very apt to show a weakness all along the line. In addition to this, it takes a large portion of the time of a high school teacher to instruct them in the conditioned subjects.

We are of opinion that it would be better for the conditioned pupil and better for the high school if hereafter no pupil be admitted to our high school unless he is entitled to a regents' preliminary certificate or an equivalent certificate approved by the State Department of Education.

Therefore, we recommended that beginning with September, 1920, no pupil be admitted to the high school who is not entitled to a regents' preliminary certificate or an equivalent certificate approved by the State Department of Education.

The members of the board present were President Fleming and Trustees Chas. A. Atkins, Crane, Hale, Schaeffer and Van Wagonen.

Before taking up its regular business the board extended the privileges of the floor to James E. Snead of this city, who is agent for a fire extinguisher of a type commonly used on automobiles, in houses, buildings and schools. After explaining the merits of the machine, Mr. Snead offered to give a demonstration, but the members of the board were not inclined to start a fire in the board room.

The matter was referred to the building committee for examination. It developed that the fire extinguishers being used in the high school are soda machines formerly used at Kingston Academy. The material in these machines deteriorates and it is necessary to refill them each year. There are no extinguishers of any kind in the grammar schools.

Permission for the use of the high school auditorium on December 2 was granted for an Edison tone test recital. A representative of the Thomas A. Edison, Inc., was present and assured the board that commercialism did not figure in the recital. One of the best of the twenty-five stars of the Edison Company will appear here. No admission will be charged.

An invitation from the Alumni Association to attend the dedication of the memorial tablet at the high school on November 5 was received and accepted. Seats for the members of the board will be reserved on the stage.

Superintendent Michael read a communication from the state department of education calling the board's attention to the need of preparing for the compulsory part does not include the principal of the matter was referred to the finance committee for consideration in the making of the budget next year.

Warrants were ordered drawn for vouchers in the sum of $2,675.02 and the pay roll amounting to $12,538.04 was audited.

Trustee Van Wagonen reported that the plans and specifications made by the boys of the high school for an outside building for the storage of bicycles had been received and were well executed. The specifications, he said, were especially well worked out. Mr. Van Wagonen reported that the material could be purchased for $820. The board will purchase this needed material and the building will be built by the boys of the vocational department.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

The following resolutions on the death of Miss Catherine Schoonmaker were adopted by the board: "Miss Catherine Schoonmaker began teaching in the schools of Kingston, September, 1875. After forty-four years devoted to the cause of education in the city schools, she entered immortal life October 3, 1919. On Monday afternoon she closed her school room following Friday entered the celestial mansion of her heavenly Father in whom she had an abiding trust. Her spirit, her indomitable courage, still lives in the lives of the men and women whose destinies were largely determined by her skill as a guide and teacher."

The board of education bowing to the will of an all wise providence, expresses its deep sense of loss to the schools of the city in the death of Miss Schoonmaker and tenders their sympathy to her family in their sorrow.

Supt. Michael's Report.

The following report was presented by Supt. Michael:

To the Honorable, the Board of Education: Gentlemen: I respectfully submit the following monthly report:

The night school opened on Tuesday evening, October 14. All registrants were required to make a deposit of one dollar as a guarantee of good faith. The receipt for this fee stipulates that the dollar shall be returned to the registrant at the end of the night school session if his attendance has been 75 per cent of the nights the school is in session. Otherwise the fee will be deposited with the city treasurer for credit to the school fund. As a result of this procedure we have 60 persons who have registered for night school work, all of whom manifest great zeal in their studies. Classes have been organized in arithmetic, English, spelling, penmanship, typewriting, bookkeeping and reading.

It is interesting to note that in the reading class are three adults who on registration could not read in any language. They have made such progress that they are now able to read simple English. These same people will, before the end of the term if they continue in school, be able to read any English and write a fair hand.

Principal Cullen in charge of the night school as principal, assisted by our supervisor of writing, Miss Margaret Mulligan, by Principal R. H. Van Valkenburgh of school No. 4, and by Miss Alida M. Little, commercial teacher of high school, at a cost of instruction of $12.50 per night and $1 per night for janitor's service, making a total of $13.50 per night, exclusive of the cost for light. Last year it was not found necessary to start up the heating apparatus for the night school. The school is in session on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

In the public day schools the following table gives the facts of registration by schools. Except for school

The following report was presented by Supt. Michael:

To the Honorable, the Board of Education: Gentlemen: I respectfully submit the following monthly report:

The night school opened on Tuesday evening, October 14. All registrants were required to make a deposit of one dollar as a guarantee of good faith. The receipt for this fee stipulates that the dollar shall be returned to the registrant at the end of the night school session if his attendance has been 75 per cent of the nights the school is in session. Otherwise the fee will be deposited with the city treasurer for credit to the school fund. As a result of this procedure we have 60 persons who have registered for night school work, all of whom manifest great zeal in their studies. Classes have been organized in arithmetic, English, spelling, penmanship, typewriting, bookkeeping and reading.

It is interesting to note that in the reading class are three adults who on registration could not read in any language. They have made such progress that they are now able to read simple English. These same people will, before the end of the term if they continue in school, be able to read any English and write a fair hand.

Principal Cullen in charge of the night school as principal, assisted by our supervisor of writing, Miss Margaret Mulligan, by Principal R. H. Van Valkenburgh of school No. 4, and by Miss Alida M. Little, commercial teacher of high school, at a cost of instruction of $12.50 per night and $1 per night for janitor's service, making a total of $13.50 per night, exclusive of the cost for light. Last year it was not found necessary to start up the heating apparatus for the night school. The school is in session on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

In the public day schools the following table gives the facts of registration by schools. Except for school

No. 1, the number of teachers given preparing for the compulsory part does not include the principal of the matter was referred to the finance committee for consideration in the making of the budget next year.

Warrants were ordered drawn for vouchers in the sum of $2,675.02 and the pay roll amounting to $12,538.04 was audited.

Trustee Van Wagonen reported that the plans and specifications made by the boys of the high school for an outside building for the storage of bicycles had been received and were well executed. The specifications, he said, were especially well worked out. Mr. Van Wagonen reported that the material could be purchased for $820. The board will purchase this needed material and the building will be built by the boys of the vocational department.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

The following resolutions on the death of Miss Catherine Schoonmaker were adopted by the board: "Miss Catherine Schoonmaker began teaching in the schools of Kingston, September, 1875. After forty-four years devoted to the cause of education in the city schools, she entered immortal life October 3, 1919. On Monday afternoon she closed her school room following Friday entered the celestial mansion of her heavenly Father in whom she had an abiding trust. Her spirit, her indomitable courage, still lives in the lives of the men and women whose destinies were largely determined by her skill as a guide and teacher."

The board of education bowing to the will of an all wise providence, expresses its deep sense of loss to the schools of the city in the death of Miss Schoonmaker and tenders their sympathy to her family in their sorrow.

Whose Word is Better Than Your Druggist's?

Physicians, Dentists and Nurses Rely On Him—Isn't That Sufficient Reason for Public Confidence?

There are many good reasons for the confidence the public repose in their druggist. First, he is educated to know by four years of college and practical training. Second, ethical physicians everywhere rely implicitly on his skill—they trust him. This faith, of course, originates and is maintained by the professional service rendered by the druggist in filling prescriptions. Everyone admits this confidence when offering a prescription to a druggist.

Very few men can be honest in one department of their business, and dishonest in the other. Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde exist very little in real life. If you trust your druggist to fill your prescription, trust him in all fairness, you must accept his word against the word of unscrupulous and far distant manufacturers.

To recommend an article, the druggist of course, know what it contains and how it is made, and this was one reason for the formation of a co-operative national association of druggists and physicians who prepare a complete line of household remedies and toilet goods. This association is the American Druggists Syndicate, popularly called A. D. S., which boasts a membership of 25,000 druggists and physicians, the largest of its kind in the world. For 10 years it's only fair to take his word about these professional men met annually for conference in order to obtain the best formulas for its products that the combined skill and experience of its members could produce. All these articles are non-secret, strictly ethical. The ingredients in all A. D. S. preparations conform to the standard advocated by the government, and cannot be excelled in quality. As the association is strictly co-operative, its merchandise is also sold at the very lowest prices possible for the quality.

In Kingston there are 12 druggists who will tell you that A. D. S. Household Remedies, like Milk of Magnesia, Aspirin, Digestive Tablets, Peridol, Tooth Paste, etc., are the best that they can find in all markets. These 12 druggists stand squarely behind every A. D. S. product with an unqualified guarantee and a hearty endorsement. Such a recommendation is the greatest that can obtain, based on the scientific knowledge of tens of thousands of experts and fulfilled by a man you know well and must trust implicitly—your druggist.

Whenever you need a household remedy or toilet article, ask an A. D. S. Druggist to recommend one to you. All A. D. S. Druggists identify themselves with prominent win-popularly called A. D. THE IRRESISTIBLE Viola Dana —IN— "THE MICROBE"

A story of love, passion and intrigue which shows popular Viola Dana in a new light of cleverness. The young star plays the part of a wife of the East Side who is rescued and taken to his home by DeWitt Seneise, a noted author. This girl, known as The Microbe, grows passionately devoted to her benefactor but finds that his friends—particularly his women friends—are against her. Overhearing them say that she will be his ruin she leaves and spends her time trying to make enough money to repay DeWitt for his kindness to her. How she is the means of re-kindling his lost ambition and bringing him to the topmost bough of fame and happiness is what makes the play a masterpiece of the screen's best art.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS OF THE WEEK

Thursday morning a short program was rendered by three members of the senior class. The program opened with "A Glimpse of Pershing's Character" by Frank Quinn. Mr. Quinn delivered his address in a very interesting manner and showed great power in holding the attention of his audience. Included in the address was a short rhyme entitled "What the Bolsheviki Wants," written by General John J. Pershing.

"One of America's Great Sacrifices," given by Miss Elizabeth Brown in a most commanding style, told of the death of Allan Seager, the young American poet, who died in France. Included in her selection was his well known poem, "I Have a Rendezvous with Death."

The final number of the program was "Out of the Agony," by Hamilton Wright Mabie, and recited by Aaron Shultis. Mr. Shultis gave his selection in a very interesting manner.

At the close of the program Prof. Lewis introduced Alfred Schmid, of the Alumni Association. Mr. Schmid reminded the students of the unveiling of the memorial tablet, which occurs on Wednesday night of next week. He stated that he had heard that the high school students were desirous of taking some part and suggested that they raise enough money to buy flowers to be placed on the tablet. Immediate action was taken and the students got together the necessary sum Friday noon.

Furthermore, Mr. Schmid urged everyone to attend the services, which will be most impressive as Chaplain Francis Kelly, of the Fighting 27th division will be present.

Alumni of K. H. S. are cordially invited to renew old acquaintances at the senior dance to be held in the high school gymnasium on Monday night, November 3. Excellent music will be furnished by Mollott's orchestra.

The football team is playing in Albany this afternoon. Everyone hopes for the best as the boys have a hard nut to crack as Albany has a heavy team.

Cracking a nut to lead. Lead as a substitute for tin as a coating for sheet iron. Iron wire and the gunze was strongly advocated at the Buffalo meeting of the American Chemical Society by Charles Baskerville, who exhibited some specimens of a process worked out by him. Iron shingles, so treated, have been exposed to the weather in a roof test for two years and eleven months and show no signs of rust. They may be bent without cracking the coating and spalling the iron. Chicken wire so treated is quite as good as the galvanized and cheaper to produce.

Uncle Tom's Cabin. On June 5 in 1851 the first installment of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by Harriet Beecher Stowe, appeared in the National Era, an anti-slavery paper published at Washington, D. C. Mrs. Stowe received $200 for the serial. The following year the story was brought out in book form. The book, on account of its subject, had a great vogue. It was translated into 19 languages. More than 3,000,000 copies have been sold and the dramatization made of the novel is still being played throughout the country.

A THRILLING DRAM IN

A Wonderful
Play of Mystery

Has Love Been Blind
Through All the Ages?

The play for your Mother,
Father, Sister or Brother.

Criticism Clipped from the Philadelphia, Pa. Record.

Issue of Tuesday, Oct. 21, 1909

In "The Revelations of a Wife," a four act drama by Grace Hayward, which was presented last evening at the Walnut Street Theatre, there is a clever treatment of marriage and divorce. The title would lead one to believe that it was a play dealing with the sex problem, but, on the contrary, it is a mystery play that carries onlookers through a series of mysteries that only reveal themselves at the fall of the curtain of the last act. Then the audience is taken into the confidence of the players, and is apprised of just what the mystery is. The theme of the play deals with the question as to whether a wife can love her husband too much, and during the four acts there is a series of scenes which go to show that it is possible for a too-loving wife to neglect her own sphere in life by devoting entirely too much time to her better half only in the end to discover that she, in her devotion, has become attached to a former love mate. Much fun develops in the four acts, and there is always merriment brought into the presentation just at a time when there has been a call for a pathetic scene. Every phase of marriage and divorce is treated in "The Revelations of a Wife."

The story deals with the life of Grant Sterling, a lawyer and politician, who has aspirations for the United States Senate, but who unfortunately has married a divorced woman with a past. This serves as a drawback to his ambitions. Eventually he learns through a code message that his wife is still in the confidence of her first husband, and that she has deceived him, but in the end there is reconciliation of the couple.

Should a wife tell her husband of her life before marriage?

For eight years it has been driving her husband mad—his silence and his everlasting newspaper. She wanted youth and love and life. She knew a place on Broadway where there were lights and music and laughter, and there—

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FREEMAN PRICE RAISES NOV. 1

Under pressure of necessity the price of the Kingston Daily Freeman will be raised on November 1 to three cents a copy, 15 cents a week and $7.50 a year.

We had hoped to avoid this action, thinking that if we could pull through the war period, prices of materials would go down and that our employees would not need material increases of wages. This anticipation has been disappointed. In former years paper profits used to complete for our business, while we have now to beg for supplies and pay what is charged. Besides, our employees are not paid as much as their ability justifies and we are about to increase their compensation. Our total expenses for 1920, in spite of all the economy we can practice, will be tremendously in excess of those of this year. We cannot bring ourself to diminish the quality of The Freeman, so nothing remains but to increase revenue.

Some time ago the papers in Poughkeepsie, Middletown and other cities, raised their rates to 15 cents a week, and the price in Newburgh is 18 cents. After all, three cents is a ridiculously low price for a modern newspaper and no one who gives the matter a moment's thought is likely to hesitate at paying it.

Of course, The Freeman will carry out its contracts with subscribers who on November 1 are paid in advance.

OLD TIME 'BUS
AND CAR LINES

An old resident standing on Wall street seeing the big Phenicia auto buses, the Saugerties buses and the Woodstock buses loading up with passengers nearby, remarked to a reporter of The Freeman standing alongside of him, Wednesday, "I'm going to predict that surface cars are going to be replaced by those kind of buses, before long and I see by the papers they are establishing auto bus lines in several parts of New York and Brooklyn. That makes me remember when I was a young fellow there was only buses of stages as they called them, to travel by around here." There are many residents of Kingston to whom it seems not many years ago when stages plied between Kingston and Rondout, where stages ran to Ellenville, and the coaches were loaded by town horses from the docks on the Thomas Connel and James W. Baldwin, then the New York night steamboats, at the foot of Division street, Rondout, to the docks. The horses were changed at Shokan and Poughkeepsie, at a point and further on Tom Tilford, Chas. Edson and John Baldwin were some of the drivers of the Delhi stages, that made stops at the Mansion House, at John Schryver's City Hotel on East Front street, head of Main street, also at Tom Clark's Eagle Hotel on Main street, and at Irving Pardee's Kingston Hotel, Crown street, in Kingston. On the rear of the coaches was a large receptacle of leather, called a "boot," in which the trunks of passengers for boats up the Ulster and Delaware plank road to which they were going.

The Ellenville stages carried the mail and passengers to Hurley, Marletown, Stone Ridge, Accord, Kerhonkson and Ellenville, and as there were no prohibitionists in those days, and the sections were prosperous, there were one or two flourishing taverns or hotels in every town along the line. George F. Von Beck owned this stage line, also the Delhi stage line.

For a number of years before Major Cornell started the old horse car line, there was a stage line run by Joe Davis between Rondout and Kingston. First there was box stages that one entered at the side, with four rows of seats that carried three each. They ran at first every hour one leaving the Mansion House, and one leaving Pardee's hotel, Crown street, it was very rapid; and were later the stages were replaced by omnibuses and ran each half hour, from the same starting places, there being four stages and they passed one another at O'Reilly's woods, where the city hall and the high school stand. Jacob Butler became a partner with Joe Davis in the stage line. The fare was 12 1/2 cents for one way. The stages carried the boys and girls back and forth from Rondout to the old Kingston Academy.

The first horse cars were of the "humpbacked" variety, which were succeeded by a big modern car of those days, being hauled by two horses and carried a driver and conductor. The conductor collected fares as far from passengers who rode as far as Greenkill avenue, and the passengers who went through to Rondout paid ten cents to Richard Van Gansbeek at a toll gate that stood across Union avenue, a short distance north of East Chester street. Later one horse car was put on without a conductor, the passenger dropping his fare into a glass box at the front of the car where the driver could see it and dump the money into a box below. At one time composition checks, good for one fare, were sold and used by regular users of the cars, and there were some people who had the nerve to drop composition checks in the pay box. Some of the road composition checks and thus defrauded the company out of the fare. The old resident who was telling the reporter of the old days of buses and horse cars, told how on one night a solitary passenger wanted to go to Sol Brown's hotel on Crown street. The car, a green one of the "humpback" kind that turned on a swivel in under the center, instead of using a turntable, was driven by John Baldwin. It was raining very hard, and the passenger did not want to walk with his heavy satchel from John street to the hotel. The car route then was down John street to Green, and from there down North Front street to the car barn on Bridge street, a short distance from the Hug Ganville bridge.

Driver Baldwin was a remarkable man so he made his car jump the car track at Judge Schoonmaker's corner and turned into Crown street, leaving the passenger out at Brown's hotel. Baldwin then continued to North Front street over the dirt road to Green street where at Frog Alley he got his car on the track again and drove to the car barn.

AT THE THEATERS.

Friendly Enemies and Revelations of a Wife Soon.

Viola Dana, the winsome little Metro star known both to stage and screen fame, will be seen at Keener's tonight in "The Microbe," a clever and original drama by Henry Altman, published as a short story in Aldine's Magazine. A Keystone comedy and International News Weekly will be added attractions tonight.

How a guileless man defeated every attempt on his life and property until desperation caused him to "bust loose from peace" is shown in "The Ace of the Saddle," Harry Carey's latest Universal western, which will begin a showing at the Auditorium tonight. Also the great thrilling serial by Cyrus Townsend Brady, "Smashing Barriers," will be given its opening episode tonight and continue every Saturday for fifteen weeks.

Surprising situations, suspense and mystery mark the action in the Earle Williams picture, "A Rogue's Romance," which will be seen in Keener's Monday. It is the romance of a master society crook who finally turns straight for the love of a girl.

No play produced on the American stage in the last quarter of a century will stir up such a wonderful amount of controversy as Grace Hayward's newest offering, "The Revelations of a Wife," booked for two days at the Kingston Opera House, starting Monday with matinees daily for ladies only, at which a lecture on marriage and divorce is given. The evening performances are for everybody over the age of 16. Seats are now selling.

One of the greatest theatrical successes will be seen in this city tonight when A. H. Woods will present the comedy "Friendly Enemies," at the Kingston Opera House.

Household Weights and Measures.

For the benefit of the housekeeper, the bureau of standards, department of commerce, has published a card, to be hung in the kitchen, giving information useful in the household. This includes weights and measures equivalents, weights per bushel of the more common vegetables and fruits, weights per cup of sugar, butter, lard, flour and rice. Much other useful information is condensed upon this card. Until the supply is exhausted, copies of this publication may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., and requesting Miscellaneous Publications—No. 29, Household Weights and Measures.

Flowers of Poland.

According to an English newspaper correspondent who recently reported a journey he had made from Paris to the Polish capital, the most impressive spectacle that he saw was the mantle of blossoms, clustered profusely, which fringed the highways and byways about Warsaw. "All the wars of Poland," he writes, "could not check the new life that came riding through her borders at the head of the advancing spring; sprays of blue found place in the gray caps of Polish linens, tulips and chestnut leaves, tokens of the new dawn, in the garb of peer and peasant. Everywhere was spring yielding back a measure of her everlasting rights. But the flowers never took much notice of the war even 'at the front'."

Runs News Stand Without Hands.

There is a boy running a news stand in Union square, New York city, who has no hands. He opens and closes his stand, opens and folds his papers and passes them out to customers, without delay or difficulty, and makes change like an expert.

Lou Young is his name. He lost both hands in an explosion when thirteen years old, but that handicap did not hinder him from going into business and making a success of it.

"The cripple who has spunk is as good as anyone else," he says.

Probably Envious.

"After a few months in other states, I was returning to Indianapolis," remarked a traveling salesman, "and I don't mind telling you I was glad to be getting back home. As I sat down beside the stranger I told him how good it was to be back in the land of greenfields."

"So we started to talk about the beauty spots of Mother Nature. It is nothing more than natural for any traveler to talk about his own state. And I had to ask him whether he had ever been in Brown county."

"The stranger looked out of the car window a minute, saying softly to himself: 'Brown county, Brown county.' When he looked around at me again he said:

The building contains two stores, one that has been occupied by Mr. Cuneo as a retail liquor store and the other by William H. Hapeman as a market and produce market. The two upstairs floors are occupied as apartments.

The Wall street building purchased by Mr. Cuneo is occupied on the ground floor by Pellant & Savatry, who conduct a confectionery there called "Candyland" being directly opposite the Keener Theatre, and the upper floors are occupied by the Cad Dentists, Dr. B. His recent purchases were made as investments.

Runs News Stand Without Hands.

There is a boy running a news stand in Union square, New York city, who has no hands. He opens and closes his stand, opens and folds his papers and passes them out to customers, without delay or difficulty, and makes change like an expert.

Lou Young is his name. He lost both hands in an explosion when thirteen years old, but that handicap did not hinder him from going into business and making a success of it.

"The cripple who has spunk is as good as anyone else," he says.

Probably Envious.

TEN QUESTIONS FOR MAYOR CANFIELD TO REPLY TO

- 1.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the people of this city at this time what (approximately) the tax rate for 1920 is going to be. You know, they do not, they are entitled to this information now.
- 2.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the people exactly how much money the city, including any of its boards, have borrowed from the banks to pay this year's current debts and how much more it will be necessary for them to borrow to pay all debts contracted for 1919.
- 3.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the people, if the city has definitely decided on any one of the specific plans for the Broadway elimination crossing, also whether or not you do not favor the plaza plan.
- 4.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, explain to the people why it cost $275,000 more to run the city under your administration than it did under your predecessor?
- 5.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, assert that the welfare of the city, the prosperity and happiness of its people, or the ease of mind of the taxpayers, are in any degree dependent on you being elected mayor for the fourth term?
- 6.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the people just why and for what reason or reasons you ask the people of Kingston to elect you mayor for the fourth term, something unheard of in the history of Kingston?
- 7.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the taxpayers why you bought a second hand street flusher when several local dealers offered to sell the city a brand new street flusher, of same capacity and with all modern equipment at a less cost to the city, and why our local business men were not given the preference?
- 8.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the people of Kingston whether or not (if checked) you will re-appoint your law partner, William D. Brimner, the corporation counsel?
- 9.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the people of Kingston whether or not (if checked) you will reappoint Morris Block (Democrat) city assessor?
- 10.—Will you, Mayor Canfield, tell the people over your own signature why certain people in the city had their assessments on their properties reduced, and who these people were?

Probably Envious.
